

As of July 01, 2012

Legislators often visit Reach Out and Read program sites when they are in their home state or district. A visit to a Reach Out and Read program site allows a legislator to see firsthand the Reach Out and Read model in action, and also provides him or her with the opportunity to serve as a volunteer reader to children in the waiting room.

Check out the Members of Congress who have served as volunteer readers in the last year!
